BURIED AS A PAUPER. Story of a Poor Stranger, Who was Revertheless Well Known in Richmond.

On the 20th of July a pauper's grave received the body of "Dr." J. P. Wilson. The man was known here as a quack doctor, dentist, horse-tamer, &c. Beyond this the few intimates that he possessed knew little of his history. To them all he was a mystery. That he had seen better days was evident; that he was connected with people in high sta-tion was judged from what occasiontion of the city from southern corporation line, taking the middle line of a signment and instruction. DECEASED'S RESIDENCE HERE. From investigations made by th Dispatch yesterday it appeared that Wilson came here from Knox county, metion to different parties in this city le made the acquaintance of severa of the leading real estate agents and told them that it was his purpose t buy a farm in Virginia. He purchased f R. B. Chaffin & Co. the farm of Mr. lay Drewry, at Chester, in Chester field county. Shortly thereafter his wife, Virginia C. Wilson, came on to riginia and lived with him for several onths and returned to Ohio. Wilson not being able to meet the ayments, gave up his farm, came to sichmond, and knocked around, following different occupations. In a few nonths his means gave out.

HARDSHIPS. Last fall be underwent many hardships. Life's struggle with him was a hard one. Any night in the rear of a shoemaker's shop on Main street he could be seen lying, the ground or his bed, his coat his pillow, and the heavens above his covering About this time rumor connected him with the celebrated Cluverius case From his mandlin talk, made so from excessive use of stimulants, and his suspicious going and coming, it was thought that he either knew about or had a hand in the murder of Miss Madison, but upon investigation by the police it was soon ascertained to be false.

HIS LAST MOVE. Farly this summer he got a little oney and moved to a boarding-house near the Old market, and on the night of July 19th, under the influence of iquor, he retired to his room, and was found the next morning lying in the middle of the floor dead. His remains were buried by the city authorities, and now lay at rest in the Potter's field. At times Wilson would speak of his wife and children. He always talked of his youngest child with much affec-

The Chinaman's Case. The case of Ah Lee, the Chinaman who is trying to get released from the city jail on a writ of habeas corpus, was taken up to the Hustings Court yesterday before Judge Atkins, but the hearing was continued until Saturday. Lee was represented by Lawyer E. A. Kandolph. The "Chinee," it will be remembered, is charged with obtaining $1,000 under false pretences in Philadelphia from Lung Quong. He was arrested here a few days ago on a warrant sworn out in this city by Quong. The point is: Can he be held in this State for a crime alleged to have been committed in another State

Lunenburg Democrats. LUNENBURG COURTHOUSE, VA., September 12, 1887.

To day the Democrats of this county held a meeting to consider the expediency and method of nominating a candidate for the House of Delegates. T. Tisdale was called to the chair and J. Colin Neal chosen secretary.

The Chair having stated the object of the meeting, on motion, it was resolved that the Democrata assemble at their respective voting-places on Saturday, September 24th, to appoint six delegates each to a convention at the Courthouse October court-day to name

Mr. T. J. Arvin was unanimously relected chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee. It was ordered that the secretary report the proceedings of the meeting to he Dispatch, Chase-City Clipper, and the New Era for publication.

Much interest was manifested, and no doubt of success in the coming cam paign seemed to be entertained. J. T. TISDALE, Chairman.

J. Colin Neal, Secretary. [Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

Coleman as Danville's choice for the known citizen of Swansboro', and proprietor of the tile works near the Petersburg railroad crossing, who was recently stricken with paralysis, was somewhat better yesterday.

Invitations are out to the marriage of Hon. Thomas M. Miller, member of the House of Delegates from this district, to Miss Annie Patteson, daughter of the late Dr. Patteson. The ceremony will take place next Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Meade-Memorial church.

The river, as stated yesterday, is as low as it has been since the long drought of 1881. This, however, will not affect the water supply in Riehmond, as the two reservoirs are full and the supply can be increased by getting water from above Bosher's dam.

Washington, September 14.—A let-ter received in this city from a son of Commodore Charles Wangh Morgan, of 1812 fame, directs the sale of the valua-ble and historic sword which was preserted to the Commodore by the State of Virginia in honor of his intrepidity and valor as a lieutenant of the United States frigate Constitution at the cap-ture of the British frigates Guerriero and Java on the 19th of August, 1812, and 29th of December, 1813. The scab-bard and handle of the sword are of gold, and the blade is of the finest tempered steel. On the scabbard, in bas-relief, are representations of the naval victories which the sword was given to commem-orate. The sword has laid more than thirty years in the vault of a local bank, and the sen, who now owns it, resides in England, and desires it to be sold to supply his necessities. Almshouse Medicines.

At the meeting of the Committee on Poor at the almshouse it was unanimously

mously

Resolved, That after a full investigation and consultation with Mr. Wagner's representative and the physicians at the almshouse the committee are of the opinion that Mr. Wagner's medicines were up to the standard, with the exception of one article, which, his representative agreed, might have been overlooked in its preparation, and that Mr. Wagner is hereby recognized as a competent bidder for future contracts.
